I'll arrange our specific itinerary based on weather and light. Above is a pretty good representation of how our days will work, but we may vary our plans based on what the light offers. Much of our best light may be very late in the evening through very early morning, so we'll adapt to the light as much as we can. We'll shoot during the daytime as well – waterfalls, glaciers, Icelandic horses, puffins, and much more.

The tour is designed for 7-11 people. The cost of the workshop is $6,895 for shared accommodations and assumes 10-11 participants. The cost includes: all hotels and breakfasts, an excursion to a headlands where we can photograph puffins, one whale cruise and two midnight sun boat charters in Greenland. Standard accommodations in Iceland are typically quite simple and small. All of our accommodations have en-suite baths and are nicely positioned for the areas we want to photograph. In Greenland, we will have a very high level of hotel and accommodation.

Single accommodations are an option. The surcharge would be $1290.

In the event we travel with 7-9 people there would be an additional charge of $600.

Additional costs include our international flights (estimate $800), our flight to Greenland (estimate $1300), car rental (estimate $900-1200 per person), travel insurance, meals other than breakfast, and anything of a personal nature, as well as any individual transportation other than that with the group.

To reserve a place in the workshop a deposit of $3,450 is required, with the balance ($3,445) due February 1, 2017. Please send an email to info@eliotcohen.com to confirm availability and then your check can be mailed to:

Please check with me prior to making international air arrangements to confirm that the workshop is running as planned and that your arrival/departure will coordinate with our group travel schedule.

A standard liability waiver will be forwarded to participants prior to departure. I do not expect extreme exertion in any of our activities, but we may be walking for several hours at a time. You should be in good health and capable of this level of activity.

Cancellations/refunds:

Oct. 31, 2016 or prior: Of the deposit, $1,200 is non-refundable unless a replacement can take your place, in which case, a $750 cancellation fee will be deducted.

Nov. 1, 2016 or later: The deposit will be refunded if a replacement can take your place less a cancellation fee of $750.

Feb 1, 2017 or later, the workshop fee will be refunded only if another participant can take your place, in which case, a $1200 cancellation fee will be deducted.

Once purchased, the airfare to Greenland is non refundable unless someone takes your place and I can transfer the ticket. In the past I have been able to do so.

I would strongly suggest trip insurance to cover anything unforeseen.

By submitting your deposit, you acknowledge reading and agreeing to these terms.
